

The HERO Song

On a warm sunny island quite far away
Wee little Ooka Elves laughed and played
They found a book that was sitting on a rock
The words inside they could not unlock
The gift of reading was unknown to them
They tried and tried, but couldn't understand
So they started to search for someone to help
But only found more books and nothing else
The mischievous Fliggs, they could read
Mighty Flignnorage had taught them, indeed
He wouldn't teach elves, he didn't think twice
The Fliggs laughed at them, they weren't very nice
The wee Ooka Elves didn't know what to do
Sometimes it's hard to teach yourself something new
Will you be the Ooka Elves' hero today
Come to Ooka Island and save the day

To Ooka Island came a woman that day
A reading superstar named Auntie Kay
She came with a mission, she must succeed
Help her teach the Ooka Elves how to read
She brought her friend, a reading robot
All clumsy and wacky, his name was Zobot

They built a library filled with books
But the Fliggs broke in, those trouble-making crooks
Flignnorage's plan was put into motion
They took the books and dropped them in the ocean
Led the elves to the woods without a map
And wouldn't let them leave—they were trapped
You can be a hero and save the elves today
Come and join the team on Ooka Island with Zobot and Auntie Kay

So the call is going out for reading heroes to come
We need you on Ooka Island—will you be the one?
Will you save the Ooka Elves from the Fliggs when they are found
And take them back to live and play in the Pencil
Playground
You are the hero, save an Ooka Elf today
Live the adventure on Ooka Island with Zobot and Auntie Kay!

You are the hero today!
